

CHAN KWUN LAM, ELLIOT, ET

OBJECTIVE A computer science graduate with a passion for technology is seeking a meaningful role in beginning a career in development. IT is something for me that I can really achieve and I am ready to pour my future into it.

I am open-minded and sensitive to new technology, also skilled at coding and troubleshooting. Additionally, I have basic operation and maintenance knowledge. With curiosity about new technologies and world trends, I therefore spent some of my time learning the basics of the blockchain, machine learning, cyber-security etc...

I am not currently an expert in any area, but I am ready for any type of work.
